Professional Summary

Instructional designer transitioning from 7+ years as a classroom educator, where I diagnosed learning gaps and redesigned instruction for multilingual and diverse learners, producing over 80% of my own instructional materials and measurably improving student outcomes, applying that same needs-analysis and design process to the workplace and in adult learning contexts, with a focus on training for multilingual and cross-cultural teams. Seeking to bring a proven instructional design skill set, refined in one of the highest-stakes learning environments there is, into corporate, healthcare, or government L&D.

Professional Experience
